Provence, in Southern France is well know for its fields of lavender, picturesque mountains and vineyards and very good food and wine.

Depending on the time of year, especially during spring and fall, nature's colors intensify the allure of Provence. The motifs of Chapter 16 are true to the region, and the two “field” colors have subtle shades that mimic the pastels made famous on many renowned French painters' canvasses.

Chapter 16 “field” colors are glazed using a matte-stain “antique crackle” finish reminiscent of artisan glazes used in this region of France for centuries. If used on shower walls or kitchen backsplashes, we highly recommend using a penetrating sealer periodically, which helps maintain the “antique” quality of the tiles.
